The ASMS Graduate Student Award recognizes graduate students whose academic achievements and current mass spectrometry research display a high level of excellence and distinction. Up to 10 awards of $1,000 each will be conferred annually. The Award is intended to support conference travel. Allowable expenses include transportation, lodging and meals. Receipts must be submitted after the conference. ASMS will reimburse up to $1,000. Only one applicant per research group may apply. Note: Attendance at a non-ASMS conference to present MS research in a topic area NOT covered at the ASMS conference is allowed in select cases.

ADVISOR STATEMENT for inclusion with online award application.

As Ph.D. advisor to an ASMS Graduate Student Travel award applicant your signature below confirms agreement to these statements:

1. I have reviewed and approved the application materials (your student will share their materials for online application).
2. The applicant has an excellent academic record and is working on research related to mass spectrometry.
3. At the time of the conference, the applicant is expected to be a full-time graduate student at this institution.
4. I have approved the applicant to attend the conference as the presenting author on a submitted abstract.
5. The applicant is the only person from this research group who has been approved to apply for this Award.
