Chemical - Sr. Research Chemist/Mass Spectrometrist

Interviewer: Logan Plath, PPG Industries

The Sr. Research Chemist/Mass Spectrometrist will be working as part of multiple teams to support production and the development of new products for coatings and OLED materials! Authority in mass spectrometry who crafts and carries out experiments independently. They lead a dynamic workload, using communication and organizational skills to resolve prioritization and lead resource capacity. Must be able to clearly communicate results and conclusions to partners (both internal and external), supporting research and production enabling sales!